OUR FLAG!

The union of lakes—the union of lands—
The Union of States none would sever;—
The union of hearts—the union of hands—
And the Flag of our Union forever!

H. J. STAHL, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

GUTTYSBURG, PA.

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 12, 1863.

Both Houses of the State Legislature organized on Tuesday, the Senate electing Abolition and the House Democratic officers. Senator-Speaker, George V. Lawrence; Chief Clerk, Geo. W. Hammersley; Assistant Clerk, George S. Berry; Sergeant-at-Arms, John F. Cochran; Doorkeeper, John G. Martin; House-Speaker, John Cessna; Chief Clerk, Jacob Ziegler; Assistant Clerk, R. Milton Speer; Sergeant-at-Arms, Benj. F. Kelly; Doorkeeper, Sebastian Seber; Postmaster, A. J. Gerritson.

The election for United States Senator is to take place to-morrow. It is expected to draw a large crowd.

We print Gov. Curtin's Message this morning. It has one recommendation—it is short. And another—it does not endorse "old Abe's" Abolition Proclamation. Altogether, the Message is a negative document.

Gov. Seymour sent in his message to the Senate of New York on Wednesday.—He declares that the National Constitution must be held inviolate—denounces arbitrary arrests and martial law—pronounces the Emancipation Proclamation of President Lincoln impolitic, unjust and unconstitutional—and says that the Union will be restored by the Central and Western States. More in our next. If every State now had a Democratic Governor, Abolition would soon be crushed out, and there would again be hope for the Country.

The Delaware Legislature organized on Tuesday, both Houses electing Democratic officers. Gov. Bullington, in his message, takes a strong stand against the President's Emancipation Proclamation, pronouncing it unconstitutional and injurious to the black and untrue to the white race.

That the President's Emancipation Proclamation has any warrant in the Constitution will not be sincerely maintained. That it is an act upon which its author can successfully invoke the conscientious judgment of mankind, or the "favor of Almighty God," is very doubtful. That it will end the rebellion, restore good feeling, and unite these now belligerent States, giving us again the Union as it was under the Constitution as it is, is absurd.

On the other hand, we agree with the New York Herald, when it says: "We consider this pronouncement unnecessary, unwise and ill-timed, impracticable, outside of the Constitution and full of mischief. Its effects will be more thoroughly to unite and exasperate the whites of the South in their resistance to the government of the Union than they have ever been united heretofore, and to establish over their slaves a more rigid surveillance and discipline than ever heretofore exercised over them. No signs of disaffection among them will be permitted beyond the limits of our armies; or should they, hap-hazard, break out into revolts and massacres, after the fashion of Nat Turner, in the Southampton slaughter, the desired plea will be furnished for armed European intervention to put an end to what may, be properly called, this inhuman war. President Lincoln evidently has some misgivings as to this point, or he would not enjoin the slaves concerned to abstain from all violence unless in necessary self-defence." He seems to realize the danger in that sowing the wind he may reap the whirlwind. But let us hope that this proclamation will prove nothing worse than a nullity and a hollow rebuke to the Abolition whale."

Without slavery the rebellion could never have existed, without slavery it could not continue.

Perhaps it is a proper time in this connection to ask Mr. Lincoln, was it slavery or anti-slavery that caused this rebellion? Slavery existed before the nation; it was incorporated into the Union; the Union has existed nearly a hundred years with the institution, slavery all the while receding; but the Abolitionists commence their anti-slavery tirade against the institution, incorporate anti-slavery in the issue for a Presidential canvass, and elect an anti-slavery Congress and President—and here we are, cutting throats. Tell us truly, was it slavery or anti-slavery that drove us to war?—Locre Union.

One day last week, as a boat load of contrabands was landed at Washington, one of them, about thirty years of age, attracted more attention than any other because of his lack of height. He was asked "John, don't you want a job?" "No, sir," was the answer. "Wouldn't you like to drive an omnibus?" "I don't know, sir; must ask Mr. Linkum first." This we have from eye-witness.

Thurlow Weed, a prominent Republican politician of New York, and one of the leading editors of that party, in a recent letter from Washington, says:

"The Abolition Press has united and exasperated the whole people of the South—but for this perpetual stimulus, the Rebel chiefs would have been deserted by their now devoted followers."

This is but a simple admission of the truth of what the Democracy have been constantly warning the people since the commencement of our sectional strife.

The Abolition party is done. The last election did the business. The nigger institution will never recover from the shock. Like the animal in "Mother Goose's Melodies."

"While it lives, it lives in clover, And when it dies, it dies all over."

The Secretary of the Treasury proposes to make a loan of nine hundred millions of dollars.

NEW ENGLAND DICTATION.

"Senator Wilson of Massachusetts has proposed, and will immediately introduce, a bill in aid of Emancipation in Missouri. Inasmuch as the Constitution of that State forbids Emancipation without compensation, and it is deemed of the utmost interest of the people on the side of Freedom and against the Rebellion, it is proposed to give the immediate pecuniary aid of the Government towards Emancipation as a military measure. The bill will offer a payment of $10,000,000 for the purpose, with suitable provisions to insure the accomplishment of its purpose."—N. Y. Tribune.

New York, Pennsylvania, and other States received no National bounty for abolishing slavery; why should Missouri? Why should the industrious hard working white laborers of the free States be taxed to buy Missouri negroes, whose labor will thus come into competition with theirs? Was there ever a more gigantic and disgraceful fraud attempted? Senator Wilson had better give his attention to the laborers of Massachusetts; to the sewing girls and factory operatives who are oppressed by their employers, and not waste his time over the affairs of distant communities, who have quite as good a right to exercise acts of sovereignty as has Massachusetts. And particularly is he recommended not to mortgage the thews and sinews of the white laboring men of this and future generations to pay for the freedom of negroes, as the mortgage might be repudiated.

It is this officious intermeddling with the affairs of others that has produced the present civil war. Abolitionists are to the Union what a lying meddlesome gossip is to a neighborhood: they produce discord, wrangling, bitterness, separation of friends, strife and bloodshed.—Emilia Gazette.

ELECTION OUTRAGES.

Much has been said of the Abolition outrages in Delaware, but it appears to have been much worse in Missouri. Bayonets stood around the polls in many places, preventing every one from voting who was not an Abolitionist. In the State where 170,000 votes are polled at ordinary elections, but 80,000 votes were cast, Companies of the 12th regiment Missouri enrolled volunteers voted several days after the 4th day of November, and minors and aliens were permitted to vote, and all counted and certified from Perry county. In other cases, neither judges nor clerks were sworn-in.

General & General.

The Anderson Troop.

The Anderson Cavalry were in the terrible fight at Murfreesboro', and suffered very much. They were drawn into an ambuscade, and the two Majors, Rosewater and Ward, were killed, as also Sergeant Kimber, Alexander Drake, F. Herring, A. W. Kendrick, and A. W. Chase. These are all the names as yet given. Who else were killed, and who wounded, we have not yet learned. Great interest is felt here, as about twenty or thirty young men from this town and county were in the troop.

Capt. Irwin, of the first of Irwin & Taylor, has been elected President of the Western Maryland Railroad, and General Superintendent of the Road for the ensuing year. His son, P. Henry Irwin, has been appointed Assistant Superintendent. The road is doing a good business, and a corps of engineers will soon survey the route from Union Bridge towards Hagerstown, with a view to its extension.

By the President of the United States A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, On the 22d day of September, in the year of our Lord, one thousand hundred and sixty-two, a proclamation was issued by the President of the United States, containing, among other things, the following, to wit: "That on the first day of January, in the year of our Lord, 1863, all persons held as slaves within any State or designated part of a State, the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States, shall be then, thenceforward and forever free; and the Executive Government of the United States, including the military and naval authority thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to repress such persons or any of them, in any efforts they may make for their actual freedom."

That the Executive will, on the first day of January aforesaid, by proclamation, designate the States or parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof, respectively, shall then be in rebellion against the United States; and the fact that any State, or the people thereof, shall on that day be, in good faith, represented in the Congress of the United States by members chosen thereto at elections wherein a majority of the qualified voters of such States shall have participated, "shall, in the absence of strong countervailing testimony, be deemed conclusive evidence that such State, and the people thereof, are not then in rebellion against the United States."

Now, therefore, I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, by virtue of the power in me vested as Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, in time of actual and armed rebellion against the authority and Government of the United States, and as a fit and necessary war measure for suppressing said rebellion, do, on this first day of January, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and in accordance with my purpose so to do, publicly proclaim for the full period of one hundred days, from the day first above mentioned, order and designate as the States and parts of States wherein the people thereof respectively are this day in rebellion against the United States, the following, to wit:

Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, (except the parishes of St. Bernard, Plaquemines, Jefferson, St. John, St. Charles, St. James, Ascension, Assumption, Terre Bonne, Lafourche, St. Marie, St. Martin and Orleans, including the city of New Orleans), Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia, (except the forty-eight counties designated as West Virginia, and also the counties of Berkeley, Accomac, Northampton, Elizabeth City, York, Princess Ann, and Norfolk, including the cities of Norfolk and Portsmouth,) and which excepted parts are for the present left precisely as if this proclamation were not issued.

And by virtue of the power and for the purpose aforesaid, I do order and declare that all persons held as slaves within said designated States and parts of States, are, and henceforward shall be free; and that the Executive Government of the United States, including the military and naval authorities thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of said persons.

And I hereby enjoin upon the people so declared to be free to abstain from all violence, unless in necessary self-defense; and I recommend to them, that, in all cases when allowed, they labor faithfully for reasonable wages.

And I further declare and make known that such persons, of suitable condition, will be received into the armed service of the United States to garrison forts, positions, stations, and other places, and to man vessels of all sorts in said service.

And upon this act, sincerely believed to be an act of justice, warranted by the Constitution, upon military necessity, I invoke the considerate judgment of mankind, and the gracious favor of Almighty God.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my name and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

The union of lakes—the union of lands—
The Union of States none would sever—
The union of hearts—the union of hands—

H. J. STABLE, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

GETTYSBURG, PA.

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 12, 1863.

Both Houses of the State Legislature organized on Tuesday, the Senate electing Abolition and the House Democratic officers. Senate—Speaker, George V. Lawrence; Chief Clerk, Geo. W. Hammersley; Assistant Clerk, George S. Berry; Sergeant-at-Arms, John F. Cochran; Doorkeeper, John G. Morton. House—Speaker, John Cossen; Chief Clerk, Jacob Ziegler; Assistant Clerk, R. Milton Speer; Sergeant-at-Arms, Benj. F. Kelly; Doorkeeper, Sebastian Sebar; Postmaster, A. J. Gerritson.

The election for United States Senator is to take place to-morrow. It is expected to draw a large crowd.

We print Gov. Curtin's Message this morning. It has one recommendation—it is short. And another—it does not endorse "old Abe's" Abolition Proclamation. Altogether, the Message is a negative document.

NEW ENGLAND DICTATION.

Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, has proposed, and will immediately introduce a bill in aid of Emancipation in Missouri. Inasmuch as the Constitution of that State forbids Emancipation without compensation, and it is deemed of the utmost importance to secure the State and the interest of the people on the side of Freedom and against the Rebellion, it is proposed to give the territorial pecuniary aid of the Government towards Emancipation as a military measure. The bill will offer a first installment of $10,000,000 for that purpose, with suitable provisions to insure the accomplishment of its purpose."—N. Y. Tribune.

New York, Pennsylvania, and other States received no National budget for abolishing slavery; why should Missouri? Why should the industrious hard working white laborers of the free States be taxed to buy Missouri negroes, whose labor will thus come into competition with theirs? Was there ever a more gigantic and disgraceful fraud attempted? Senator Wilson has better give his attention to the laborers of Massachusetts; to the sewing girls and factory operatives who are oppressed by their employers, and not waste his time over the affairs of distant communities who have quite as good a right to exercise acts of sovereignty as has Massachusetts. And particularly is he recommended not to mortgage the thews and sinews of the white laboring men of this and future generations to pay for the freedom of negroes, as the mortgage might be repudiated.

It is this officious intermeddling with the affairs of others that has produced the present civil war. Abolitionists are to the Union what a lying meddlesome gossip is to a neighborhood; they produce discord, wranglings, bitterness, separation of friends, strife and bloodshed.—Elmira Gazette.

ELECTION OUTRAGES.

Gov. Seymour sent in his message to the Senate of New York on Wednesday.—He declares that the National Constitution must be held inviolate—denounces arbitrary arrests and martial law—pronounces the Emancipation Proclamation of President Lincoln impolitic, unjust and unconstitutional—and says that the Union will be restored by the Central and Western States. More in our next. If every State now had a Democratic Governor, Abolitionism would soon be crushed out, and there would again be peace for the Country.

This is what the Abolitionists call "coming back to the policy of the fathers!"

Even the Ossabaw Academy understands that Judge Flanders, of Malone, N. Y., whose illegal and arbitrary arrest and imprisonment our readers are familiar with, intends taking legal measures against Secretary Seward, for false imprisonment.

We are glad to see on all hands, a determination to invoke the forms of law to maintain the spirit of the laws, and the rights of citizens, against those who have outraged both. Let those who break the law in high places be equally responsible with those who commit the same breach in humble stations.—Starkey Democrat.

Tell Me and I'll Tickle You.—Gen. Burnside has assumed a partial responsibility.—President Lincoln has complimented him upon his strenuous retreat across the Appalachians. During the magnificent and most masterly change of front on the Peninsula, General McClellan never received a word of praise. It is reserved for us to be complimented, whether in the Cabinet, the Army or the Navy.

A Meno Salute!—The Abolitionists of this city fired a salute of fifty guns, on Friday evening last, in honor of Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation. We had not supposed that any white men in our mid-st could be found who would so degrade themselves as to participate in a Negro justification, but we were mistaken. For the credit of Penn-sylvania, however, it is known that Lancaster and Pittsburg are the only two places in her borders where such an outrage on propriety has been perpetrated.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

Will some one tell us how it is that all the sympathizers in the rebellion unite in a host of sorrow and indignation at the removal of General McClellan? What else wrong is done to them by that removal? Will some one enlighten us?—African Republican.

The Deacon means Democra when he speaks of "sympathizers with rebellion." In his story it is only necessary to point him to the recent terrible disaster at Fredericksburg.—Jeffersonian.

The Governor's Mass-ap crowds out a communication and other letter intended for this issue.

An effort is being made to bring the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps home, for reorganization. It ought to be done.

An interesting letter from the 87th Regiment will be found in this issue.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

THOMAS T. SHILLERY DT DEAD.—We stated, last week, on the authority of a letter received from Falmouth, that Thomas T. Shillery, of this place, had been severely wounded in the battle of Fredericksburg, and soon after died. We are happy to be able to state that that information was anything but correct, and we do this upon the authority of the supposed dead man himself. A letter was received from him by his sister, a few days in which he states that he is a prisoner of war, in the Libby Prison, Richmond, having been taken at the Fredericksburg battle, four hundred and sixty others. He is well, and hopes soon to be exchanged—and we hope so too.

Daughters, now your pains are o'er, You suff'ring at an end, And though ye holiest angels are May your blest souls a-constant.

Your blushing brows are cold in death, O'er and serene the face, And your cheeks a posionous bane.

Death is thy tryst, You bring your parents round you long, He's watched with tenderest care, Hast often sought to soothe with song Your grief so hard to bear.

Bute gone are gone, far away, Creations beyond the sky, To an unending lay,

With angry bands on high, Though sister and brothers long shall pine To lose our sisters so true— O'tis hard to bear!

Hope to meet again in fine, So now a long adieu.

The Anderson Troop.

THE Anderson Cavalry were in the terrible fight at Murfreesboro', and suffered very much. They were drawn into an ambuscade, and the two Majors, Rosecrans and Ward, were killed, as also Sergeant Kimber, Alexander Drake, F. Harting, A. W. Kendrick, and A. W. Chees. These are all the names as yet given. Who else were killed, and who wounded, we have not yet learned. Great interest is felt here, as about twenty or thirty young men from this town and county were in the trap.

By the President of the United States.
A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, on the 22d day of September, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty two, a proclamation was issued by the President of the United States, containing, among other things, the following, to wit: "That on the first day of January, in the year of our Lord, 1863, all persons held as slaves within any State or designated part of a State, the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States, shall be then, thenceforward and forever free; and the Executive Government of the United States, including the military and naval authority thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to repress such persons or any of them, in any efforts they may make for their actual freedom."

That the Executive will, on the first day of January aforesaid, by proclamation, designate the States or parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof, respectively, shall then be in rebellion against the United States, and the fact that any State, or the people thereof, shall on that day be, in good faith, represented in the Congress of the United States by members chosen thereto at elections wherein a majority of the qualified voters of such States shall have participated, "shall, in the absence of strong countervailing testimony, be deemed conclusive evidence that such State, and the people thereof, are not then in rebellion against the United States."

Now, therefore, I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, by virtue of the power in me vested as Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, in time of actual and armed rebellion against the authority and Government of the United States, and as a fit and necessary war measure for suppressing said rebellion, do, on this first day of January, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and in accordance with my purpose so to do, publicly proclaimed for the full period of one hundred days, from the day first above mentioned, order and designate the States and parts of States wherein the people thereof respectively are this day in rebellion against the United States, the following, to wit:

Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, (except the parishes of St. Bernard, Plaquemines, Jefferson, St. John, St. Charles, St. James, Ascension, Assumption, Toree, Bonne, Lafourche, St. Marie, St. Martin and Orleans, including the city of New Orleans), Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia, (except the forty-eight counties designated as West Virginia, and also the counties of Berkley, Accomac, Northampton, Elizabeth City, York, Princess Ann, and Norfolk, including the cities of Norfolk and Portsmouth,) and which excepted parts for the present left precisely as if this proclamation were not issued.

And I hereby enjoin upon the people so declared to be free to abstain from all violence, unless in necessary self-defence; and I recommend to them that, in all cases where allowed, they labor faithfully for reasonable wages.

And I further declare and make known that such persons, of suitable condition, will be received into the armed service of the United States to garrison forts, positions, stations, and other places, and to man vessels of all sorts in said service.

And upon this act, sincerely believed to be an act of justice, warranted by the Constitution, upon military necessity, I invoke the considerate judgment of mankind, and the gracious favor of Almighty God.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my name and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this first day of January, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the Independence of the United States, the eighty-seventh.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

WILLIAM H. SEWARD, Secy of State.
